About Me

My name's Jasmine and I created Feeling Nifty in May of 2018. It served as a creative outlet to share my love of home DIY projects, home decor and acrylic painting tutorials. I focus on living a creative life, and enjoy showing others how they can inject more creativity into their lives too!

About the Blog

Feeling Nifty is a DIY home decor, craft and painting tutorial blog. We focus on providing readers engaging, clear and easy to follow tutorials that will enrich their creativity and confidence with DIY styled projects.

Work with Us

We offer a variety of partnerships including: sponsored posts, guest posts, freelance writing, social media posts, campaigns and sharing, roundup posts and more. All posts include full photography (and editing). Video's can be made on request.
